ADN OPEN HOUSE PLANNED

The new Associate Degree in Nursing program at Shelton State Junior College is off to a great start, and to celebrate the birth of the new program, an open house is scheduled this Tuesday from noon until 4 p.m. at the Technical Division on 15th street.

The ADN program is designed as a career mobility program and is open to any licensed practical nurse who has a year's experience and has met the required prerequisites. This year's program will graduate 20 registered nurses next August.

Although the ADN program is under the auspices of the Junior College, the course and open house will be held at the Technical Division because the nursing labs, library and audiovisual resources are already located there.

The program is under the direction of Mary Ann Pearson, chairman of the department of nursing, and faculty instructors Kathryn Styres and Kathleen Huttlinger. All faculty, staff, and students interested in the program are invited to the reception.

LOOKING FOR A JOB? BE SURE TO COME BY AND REGISTER AT THE JOB PLACEMENT OFFICE!
